PROPS FOR EASTER

by Shelly Sellepach
Copyright Notice

CAUTION: Professionals and amateurs are hereby warned that this Work is subject to a royalty. This Work is fully protected under the copyright laws of the United States of America and all countries with which the United States has reciprocal copyright relations, whether through bilateral or multilateral treaties or otherwise, and including, but not limited to, all countries covered by the Pan-American Copyright Convention, the Universal Copyright Convention and the Berne Convention.

RIGHTS RESERVED: All rights to this Work are strictly reserved, including professional and amateur stage performance rights. Also reserved are: motion picture, recitation, lecturing, public reading, radio broadcasting, television, video or sound recording, all forms of mechanical or electronic reproduction, such as CD-ROM, CD-I, DVD, information and storage retrieval systems and photocopying, and the rights of translation into non-English languages.

PERFORMANCE RIGHTS AND ROYALTY PAYMENTS: All amateur and stock performance rights to this Work are controlled exclusively by Christian Publishers. No amateur or stock production groups or individuals may perform this play without securing license and royalty arrangements in advance from Christian Publishers. Questions concerning other rights should be addressed to Christian Publishers. Royalty fees are subject to change without notice. Professional and stock fees will be set upon application in accordance with your producing circumstances. Any licensing requests and inquiries relating to amateur and stock (professional) performance rights should be addressed to Christian Publishers.

Royalty of the required amount must be paid, whether the play is presented for charity or profit and whether or not admission is charged.

AUTHOR CREDIT: All groups or individuals receiving permission to produce this play must give the author(s) credit in any and all advertisement and publicity relating to the production of this play. The author’s billing must appear directly below the title on a separate line where no other written matter appears. The name of the author(s) must be at least 50% as large as the title of the play. No person or entity may receive larger or more prominent credit than that which is given to the author(s).

PUBLISHER CREDIT: Whenever this play is produced, all programs, advertisements, flyers or other printed material must include the following notice: Produced by special arrangement with Christian Publishers.

COPYING: Any unauthorized copying of this Work or excerpts from this Work is strictly forbidden by law. No part of this Work may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form, by any means now known or yet to be invented, including photocopying or scanning, without prior permission from Christian Publishers.
Props for Easter

A children’s presentation for Easter

by Shelly Sellepack
CAST OF CHARACTERS

Narrator
Child 1
Child 2
Child with Jar
Child with Towel
Child with Bread and Goblet
Child with Coins
Child with Praying Hands
Child with Lily
Child with Crown of Thorns
Child with Cross
Child with Nails
Child with Dice
Child with Sponge
Child with Torn Curtain
Child with Dogwood
Child with Rock
Child with Lamb
Child with Eggs
Child with Basket
Reader (May be one or as many as six)
PRODUCTION NOTES

The two or three children in the introductory scene may wear slippers, pajamas and robes. Costuming for all other children is flexible. Use shepherd, disciple and soldier costumes from other plays, or have the children dress in their Sunday best.

Blocking is also flexible. The children may sit or stand in the front until it is their turn, or they may sit in the first pew. Although it is best for the children in the introductory scene to memorize their parts, all other parts may be read from a script placed up front by the microphone. If you have a large group of children, a younger child may hold the object while an older child reads the lines.

The props needed are palm fronds — one per child — and a large wicker laundry-type basket (possibly decorated with pastel ribbons) placed downstage center, filled with the following items: perfume bottle, towel and bowl appropriate for foot washing, small loaf of bread and wine goblet, small bag filled with clinking coins, photo or statue of praying hands, lily plant, small grapevine wreath for crown of thorns, cross, three large nails, several dice, natural sponge, one yard of thin fabric, slightly scored at top center (get extra to practice with), sprig of artificial dogwood, large rock, stuffed lamb, colorful plastic Easter eggs or real dyed eggs.

In the weeks prior to the play, during rehearsals, have the children make crafts representing the various parts of the Easter story referred to in the program. A small lamb covered with cotton balls and a cross made of popsicle sticks are two examples. Other items may be purchased and altered, such as a large sponge snipped into small pieces. Dice may be purchased at a dollar store. There should be enough for each adult in the congregation.
When this program was originally performed, our children exited during the final hymn. They formed a line in the rear of the sanctuary, and each child (or team of children) presented the congregation with their crafts. The children handed out decorated bakery bags first (so the people could carry the other items!), followed by representations of all the items referred to in the program; i.e. dice, a small piece of sponge, a piece of cloth. Use your imagination, and let the children prepare as many of the items as possible. This not only gives the children a way to offer themselves to the congregation, but it gives the adults an opportunity to express their appreciation to the children directly.
(The NARRATOR is in place behind a podium at one side of the chancel area.)

NARRATOR: The sights and sounds of Easter surround us — chocolate bunnies and marshmallow candies, little chicks and white lilies, colored eggs and jelly beans. But to Christians, Easter means so much more. We remember that the dawning of the sun on that long ago Easter morning revealed an empty tomb. And therein, among the cast-off burial cloths, lay the hopes of all generations. (CHILD 1 and CHILD 2, dressed in pajamas and slippers, skip to the front, where there is a large Easter basket.)

CHILD 1: The Easter Bunny came!
CHILD 2: Look at the big basket the Easter Bunny left for us!
CHILD 1: I hope I get lots of chocolate!
CHILD 2: I really want some of those marshmallow chicks!

(CHILD 1 and CHILD 2 look into the basket, dig a bit, then look up at each other in disbelief.)

CHILDS 1 AND 2: (Ad lib) Huh? What?

CHILD 1: What’s this stuff?
CHILD 2: Where’s my candy?

NARRATOR: Hey, you two, what’s up?

CHILD 1: We thought the Easter bunny would come last night and give us candy.
CHILD 2: Yeah, but he just left us some really strange stuff.

NARRATOR: You know, Easter isn’t really about bunnies and candy.

CHILDS 1 AND 2: (Together) It isn’t?

NARRATOR: No, it isn’t. The story of Easter really begins on Palm Sunday, when Jesus rode into Jerusalem on a donkey. All the people were excited, thinking that Jesus had come to be their king. They waved palm branches and shouted, “Hallelujah!” Let’s all sing together to remember how the people loved and praised Jesus that day. Please stand and sing with us hymn number _______. (Choose an appropriate congregational hymn for celebrating Palm Sunday. As congregation sings, CHILDREN process, waving palm branches. CHILDREN leave their branches in the front pew and assemble in a line up front.)

CHILD WITH JAR: (CHILD goes to the basket and takes out a perfume bottle, then steps to the microphone.) Shortly after Jesus arrived in Jerusalem, he and his followers met for supper in the home of Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead. During this meal, Mary, the sister of Lazarus, came to Jesus holding a bottle of expensive perfume. She broke open the bottle and poured it over Jesus. (CHILD pretends to pour perfume out of the jar.) Some of the guests complained of the great waste, since this small bottle could have been sold and the money given to the poor. But Jesus said: “Leave her alone! Why are you bothering her? She has done a beautiful thing for me. You will always have the poor with you. And whenever you want to, you can give to them. But you won’t always have me here with you. She has done all she could by pouring perfume on my body to prepare it for burial. You may be sure that wherever the good news is told all over the world, people will remember what she has done” (Mark 14:6-9). This perfume bottle reminds us to give generously. (CHILD WITH JAR returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH TOWEL: (CHILD goes to the basket and takes out a towel and bowl.) When the Passover feast began on Thursday of that same week, the disciples met in an upper room to celebrate. Before the meal began, Jesus took a bowl of water and a towel and offered to wash the disciples’ feet, since they were dusty and hot. But this custom was usually reserved for the lowest of servants, and Peter cried out that Jesus should not wash his feet. Jesus answered, “If I don’t wash you, you don’t really belong to me” (John 13:8). The towel reminds us to serve others. (CHILD WITH TOWEL returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH BREAD AND GOBLET: (CHILD goes to basket and takes out the bread and goblet.) After the Passover supper, Jesus broke a loaf of bread and passed it around the table. He said, “This is my body, which is given for you.” And then he passed a cup of wine, telling everyone to drink from it. He said, “This is my blood. It is poured out for you, and with it God makes his new agreement” (Luke 22:19b-20). I’m sure the disciples wondered what he really meant. The bread and cup remind us that to receive God’s grace, we must allow Jesus to come inside of us and become part of us. (CHILD WITH BREAD AND GOBLET returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH COINS: (CHILD goes to the basket and takes out the bag filled with clinking coins.) While the disciples and Jesus were finishing up their meal, Judas snuck out. In a secret meeting with the chief priests and scribes, Judas offered to give Jesus up to be arrested. The payment was thirty pieces of silver. (CHILD jingles bag of coins.) The silver coins remind us that sometimes it doesn’t take much for us to betray Jesus. (CHILD WITH COINS returns to the line.)

NARRATOR: When Jesus and the disciples were through with their supper, they sang a hymn together. Please join with us in singing hymn number ________. (Choose an appropriate congregational hymn or chorus.)

CHILD WITH PRAYING HANDS: (CHILD goes to the basket and takes out a photo of the famous praying hands, or pantomimes praying hands.) After Jesus’ last supper, he and the other disciples went up onto the Mount of Olives, into the Garden of Gethsemane. There, Jesus knelt and prayed for the strength to do what God was asking him to do. There, during his prayer, Jesus’ sweat became like drops of blood and fell to the ground. The praying hands remind us to pray about the hard things in our lives. (CHILD WITH PRAYING HANDS returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH LILY: (CHILD takes a lily off the altar.) The tradition is that beautiful white lilies like this one grew up from the drops of blood Jesus shed during his prayer in the garden. Today, we use them to symbolize his struggle and his victory over fear and death. The lily reminds us that terrible pains and struggles can make us beautiful. (CHILD WITH LILY returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH CROWN OF THORNS: (CHILD goes to the basket and takes out crown of thorns.) Jesus was arrested and put on trial that same night. And later, when he was convicted and sentenced, the soldiers shoved a crown made of thorns down onto his forehead. They made fun of him, insulted him and spit on him. They called him King of the Jews. The crown of thorns reminds us that saying cruel things about others is wrong. (CHILD WITH CROWN OF THORNS returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH CROSS: (CHILD takes a cross out of the basket.)
The cross reminds us that Jesus died for our sins.
(CHILD WITH CROSS returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH NAILS: (CHILD takes three large nails out of the basket.) The nails remind us of the pain Jesus suffered for us. (CHILD WITH NAILS returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH DICE: (CHILD takes the dice out of the basket.)
As Jesus was on the cross, the soldiers gathered below him and played a game. The winner got to keep Jesus' clothes. The dice remind us that we should take a chance on Jesus. (CHILD shakes and rolls the dice on a hard surface, then returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH SPONGE: (CHILD takes sponge out of basket.)
One person felt sorry for Jesus. He filled a sponge with sour wine and lifted it up on a pole so Jesus could take a drink. The sponge reminds us to offer cups of cold water to the poor and thirsty. (CHILD WITH SPONGE returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH TORN CURTAIN: (CHILD takes a cloth that has been scored slightly out of the basket, holding it high with scored section at top.) In the temple, a curtain was hung to separate the people from God. The moment Jesus died, the curtain was torn in two, from the top to the bottom. (CHILD tears cloth.) The torn curtain reminds us that because of what Jesus did, there is nothing separating us from God. (CHILD WITH TORN CURTAIN returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH DOGWOOD: (CHILD takes dogwood sprig from basket.) Legend has it that because the dogwood tree was large and strong, it was used to make the cross on which Jesus was crucified. This upset the tree so much that Jesus took pity on it. From then on the tree was small, and its branches were bent and twisted. The blossoms formed a cross with two long and two short petals, and the center of each petal was stained with blood. In the very middle of the blossom was the crown of thorns. The dogwood tree and its blossoms remind us that all of creation was saved because of Jesus’ great sacrifice. (CHILD WITH DOGWOOD returns to the line.)

CHILD WITH ROCK: (CHILD takes a rock out of the basket.) When Jesus was buried, the chief priests were afraid that his followers would steal his body and pretend he had risen from the dead. To keep this from happening, they rolled a huge stone in front of the tomb. It took many men to place the stone, and there was no way a small band of disciples could remove it. Then, soldiers were placed in front of the tomb to guard it. The rock reminds us that there are huge problems in our lives that we can’t even push, but God can easily move them aside for us. (CHILD WITH ROCK returns to the line.)